“The average person spends 365 hours per month at home. Imagine what it would be like not to have one.”

The Keys for the Homeless Conference has been an annual event for the past eighteen years. It is the only Long Island Conference devoted to the issue of homelessness. Providers of housing and services, the business/banking community, community leaders, grassroots organizations, homeless persons and other concerned persons are invited to join us at this important event. This Conference encourages collaborations and information sharing aimed at reducing homelessness on Long Island.

Morning presenter

Patricia Stewart

Ms. Stewart, a successful jewelry designer with such clients as Oprah Winfrey and Chandra Wilson, (“Grey’s Anatomy”), shares her story about her childhood and her rise from poverty to success.

Afternoon Presenter

Aurora Zepeda

Aurora Zepeda is Executive Vice President of Homes for the Homeless and Executive Director of the Institute for Children and Poverty, an independent research and development organization focusing on the causes of homelessness in order to improve services and influence public policy.
